COVID Update

Dear St. John's Residents, Tenants, and Families,

We tested nursing home residents and St. John's employees on Monday, September 13, and all tests came back negative for the Covid virus. The really good news regarding these results is that all of St. John's buildings are open to family and friend visitors at this time.

As a reminder, please stop by the front desk to be screened prior to your visit. All visitors should continue to take precautions when visiting: wear a mask during the visit, physically distance yourself from others whenever possible, wash or sanitize your hands upon entering and exiting the buildings. If you are not feeling well, please postpone your visit until you are back to good health.

Tomorrow we will do another round of employee testing and we should have these results by the end of the day. I will plan on writing another update late tomorrow or early Friday morning.

God Bless,

Scot Spates
